JAPAN WELCOMES THE YANKEE WORLD FLIERS

AIR FLEET ARRIVES AT TOKIO TODAY

TREMENDOUS RECEPTION AC-CORDED BY JAPANESE CAPITAL

FLIERS HAD FLOWN FROM HITO-KAPPU BAY AT DAWN

(By United Press)
Tokio, May 22.—America's round the world fliers arrived at Kasumigaura naval base, outside Tokio, late today.

Lieutenants Smith, Nelson and Wade, first of the international fliers to reach the Japanese capital, winged down from the north to a tremendous reception.

Representatives of the Japanese government and the war and navy departments went to Kasumigaura to greet them.

The fliers had flown from Hitokappu Bay at dawn, stopping at Minato for fuel and then continuing southward to Tokio.

The arrival of the American fliers at Tokio marks achievement of a definite goal in long distance flight attempts. Although their courses lay to the eastward, both the British and the French airmen were racing to beat the American fliers to the Japanese capital.

The British amphibian plane which is competing with the Americans in the round-the-world effort has completed approximately one-third of its journey, having flown nearly 7,000 miles from England to Akyaba, Burma, suffering two serious setbacks by engine trouble. The British plane, piloted by Major MacLaren, is thirty-three days behind schedule.

Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy, gallant French airman, crashed at Shanghai, after a record flight from Paris. He may continue in a new plane.

HIGHWAYMEN IN OVERALLS

ROBBED COUNTRY BANK OF $5,000 AND ESCAPED

(By United Press)
Luverne, Minn., May 22.—A highwayman in overalls robbed the Ash Creek State bank of $5,000 late yesterday and escaped with a companion in a touring car. George Ladue, cashier of the bank, was intimidated with a revolver by the bandit and forced into the bank vault. Scooping up all the cash in sight, the man walked out of the bank, hopped into the car and the two drove away. Several persons saw the procedure but believed the man in overalls was one of a telephone crew working nearby.

Ladue liberated himself from the vault and gave the alarm. He estimated the loot at $5,000.

Ash Creek is eight miles south of telephone wires to the town, but for here. Robbers last year cut all some unknown reason abandoned plans for robbery at that time.

4 BANDITS ROB
DETROIT, MICH., BANK

Detroit, Mich., May 22.—Four armed bandits held up the branch of the Continental State bank here today and escaped with $5,000. They fled in an automobile.

FARMER-OWNED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—Minnesota will have a gigantic system of farmer-owned potato warehouses, valued at about $3,000,000, when the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange begins functioning full blast, officers announced today.

Warehouse facilities will be made available when the crop begins to move this fall. The new exchange serves members contributing to 444 separate shipping points.

FARM RELIEF AND RAILROAD

(By United Press)
Washington, May 22.—Progressives who have swung their decisive votes to the democrats in every part of the tilt on important legislation to date found themselves deserted by their allies today.

Many of the democrats voted with the republicans who endorsed the compromise tax bill which contained the democratic income tax rates by virtue of progressive support, but minority leaders are aiding the republicans in getting adjournment by June 7.

The progressives thus find themselves with their ambitious program of farm relief and railroad legislation shunted into the background.

Leaders of both parties in both houses, however, are preparing to bring up the new tax bill by next Tuesday, making a gesture at passing the McNary-Haugen bill desired by progressives, and then adjournment.

Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, will bring the conference report on the tax bill before the senate tomorrow for action. It is expected to be disposed of and sent to the house Saturday for final action before Tuesday.

"The only provision in the bill to which I strongly object is the clause for secrecy for tax returns," Senator Norris, tax leader of the progressives, told the United Press today.

"We will vote against the conference report for this reason, but we are in favor of income, inheritance, gift and other tax returns."

Adoption of the compromise bill has cleared the cloudy legislative atmosphere materially. Increased business prosperity and consequent increased tax returns are expected to make up any deficit to the treasury department which the bill may incur.

HERRIOT NEXT

BASED, OF COURSE, ON HIS ABILITY TO FORM A CABINET

(By United Press)
Paris, May 22.—It is now definitely established that Edouard Herriot is to be next premier of France, provided he can form a cabinet.

The leader of the radical socialists today said he would offer ministerial portfolios to certain socialists, but their acceptance depended largely upon whether the socialist congress votes in favor of participation in a coalition government.

Herriot expects to confer with Aristide Briand, former premier, today and arrange the formation of a cabinet if the socialists refuse participation.

IKE HICO KILLED SELF AFTER MURDERING FORMER WIFE

(By United Press)
Los Angeles, May 22.—The second death was added to the triple tragedy caused by the jealous love of a former husband.

Ike Hico, also known as Ike Johnson, died as the result of self-inflicted wounds after murdering Mrs. Edith Lyle Milligan, his former wife and wounding William Milligan, her husband of but a few days.

Mrs. Milligan is known to radio fans as the feminine "Uncle Joseph." Milligan's physicians believe he will recover.

Authorities are still piecing together details of the love tangle and events leading up to the tragedy. The Milligans were married in 1914. He entered the army. Mrs. Milligan heard that he had been killed and married Hico.

A few months ago she heard that Hico had a wife and family in Armenia and secured an annulment. Last week Milligan returned and the reunion was a joyous one. Their wedding followed.

Hico became enraged and was driven to seek revenge for a fancied wrong. A revolver was the means of getting it.

MELLON MAY ASK TAX BILL VETO

SO STATED IN HIS BEHALF AT THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

(By United Press)
Washington, May 21.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will recommend to President Coolidge that he veto the tax bill, it was said on his behalf at the treasury department today.

The bill as it stands is highly unsatisfactory to Mellon, and his objection is that it will have a depressing rather than a stimulating effect on business in general, it was said.

Mellon deplored that no reforms which "would have increased revenue" have been embodied in the bill, and it is believed that the bill will not produce sufficient revenue not only for the first year but year by year.

The "high brackets" cannot be expected to become productive of the $12,000,000 increase which will result from the new estate tax. It would be more than offset by the breaking down of values which would result from this tax reform.

Even the limited publicity provision of the house in this measure is considered prying into the private affairs of business men without increasing revenue in the slightest.

AMERICAN WOUNDED BY CHINESE BANDITS

(By United Press)
Pekin, China, May 22.—An American named Dinsmore, agent for the China Importing & Exporting Lumber Co., was mortally wounded today by Chinese bandits near Shashien, and died of his wounds after escaping, according to a report to the American legation here.

The legation is awaiting confirmation of the reports before taking action. Dinsmore's Christian name is unknown here.

The report said that the brigands attacked Dinsmore and a British subject named Mackay. The American escaped after a fight, only to die at Shashien. Mackay and three Chinese were made prisoners and carried off.

Washington, May 22.—Politics forced the location of the government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals "over the protests of army engineers," Chairman Norris charged today before the senate agricultural committee.

Norris made his charge while Dr. C. Parsons, government consulting engineer, was appearing in behalf of the Norris plan for government operation of the project. Parsons testified that the experts "unanimously agreed" that the plant should be located in southwestern Virginia or northern Tennessee.

"Why was it located at Muscle Shoals?" Senator Heflin, Alabama, asked.

"Politics," Norris declared.

"But the less we say about that part the better," he added.

WAR FRAUD CASES

Washington, May 22.—Alleged laxity of the department of justice in the prosecution of war fraud cases came under the scrutiny of the senate Daugherty investigating committee today. John M. Crim, former assistant attorney-general, was questioned about his connections with these cases. Crim is special government counsel in charge of veterans' bureau prosecutions.

SAYS "RED MENACE"

Washington, May 22.—The "red" menace in this country is "mostly talk," Special Assistant Attorney-General Crim declared today before the Daugherty investigating committee.

"I never was able to find the army of reds said to have been led by Senators France and Borah," Crim, who had charge of the red investigation, said.

"There are detectives who would want you to believe that a red army is marching on Washington, but I found it was mostly talk."

"Wasn't I classed as a red," asked Chairman Brookhart.

New York, May 22.—Brooklyn police are searching for a new bobbed haired bandit today.

The girl then walked leisurely from the shop, Saxt said, after warning him not to move for ten minutes, took the key and locked the door as she departed.

Saxt had just been in New York a month, moving here from Milwaukee.

St. Paul, May 22.—Ole Sageng, Ottertail county, candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator, began a state-wide speaking tour today, speaking at Princeton. Tomorrow he will be at Cambridge.

PAY GAS TAX AND USE LESS GAS

CAR OWNERS PAY MORE FOR GAS
BUT USE LESS IN GASOLINE TAX STATES

The gasoline tax is becoming an established fact, says Automobile Topics. The principle has its opponents in many quarters, but in spite of this, additional states are aligning themselves on the side of the gasoline tax. The movement is general and it may reasonably be expected that the gas tax will be generally adopted before long.

The statement from a journal published for car owners may be of interest to Brainerd Dispatch readers because they will vote in November on the question of whether a gas tax in Minnesota, if levied, will be used for more good roads or for general state expenses.

Gasoline taxes have several points in their favor, continues Automobile Topics. Revenues thus derived help the cause of good roads. With good roads comes additional gasoline mileage. Good roads provide space for more automobiles, and thus the tax burden is not only lightened for the individual motorist but it is spread over a "wider area." The dual saving on better roads makes it possible to collect a tax without stressing the motorist.

To state the same thought in other words, the people pay more for gasoline but use less. Fair enough. But more people use the roads. Hence the state benefits proportionately. Automobile Topics points out.

Election of Moderator

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 22.—Two strong candidates remain in the field at the last moment before the election of a moderator by the Presbyterian general assembly, in session here today.

The eleventh hour withdrawal of Dr. Joseph A. Vance, the only real liberalist candidate for the office, came as a surprise and narrowed the field to two—Dr. Charles J. Erdman of Princeton Seminary and Dr. Charles McCartner of Philadelphia.

PLATFORM COMMITTEE WRES-TLES ALL NIGHT WITH PLANKS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—A resolution endorsing Senator James E. Watson for the republican nomination for vice president was unanimously adopted early today by the platform committee of the Indiana republican convention. The boom for Watson as running mate of President Coolidge was started when six of the thirteen district caucuses approved Watson's prospective candidacy.

In an all-night session the platform committee wrestled with resolutions to build up a compromise platform that would be given approval of all factions in the convention today.

The platform does not mention the Ku Klux Klan, but declares that the laws must be enforced upon the "high and low alike" without prejudice as to race, creed or color.

Watson declared in his keynote address that the question of membership in secret organizations is not within the province of a political organization, a stand acceptable by the Klan.

A fight over delegates at large to the national convention was avoided when it was decided to select 10 delegates at large instead of 7 and give each delegate seven-tenths of a vote. By this change Postmaster General New is assured of a place on the delegation.

Three hundred delegates are said to be members of the Ku Klux Klan.

THESE INTERESTING

Within a short period the Brainerd Dispatch will inaugurate a photo-gravure section featuring first of all, home scenes of rare merit and beauty, supplemented by pictures of national interest covering current events.

This service will be semi-monthly, on Saturdays, and the issues will be of such interest as to really make souvenirs appreciated by any one in Brainerd or any one interested in this section of the 10,000 Lakes.

This step in adding a picture section to the Dispatch, shows the paper is getting in line with the larger city publications. Advertisers will be given the advantage of increased circulation so secured. The whole movement will benefit the entire community as it will give pictorial publicity to this section. All the world can "read" a picture, and no section of a metropolitan newspaper, these days, is more eagerly scanned and preserved than the photo-gravure section.

Where this service has been installed in other cities, residents have either preserved all the copies intact or have formed scrap books to keep the views, for in after years the pictures will be even more cherished and appreciated than now.

It was reported about a week ago that the place would go to Irving A. Caswell, republican national committeeman from Minnesota and former state supreme court clerk. He was recommended by Colonel C. H. March, manager of the Coolidge campaign in Minnesota. Opposition developed to Caswell on the part of Frank Clague, congressman from Redwood Falls, and Oscar E. Keller, St. Paul. Representative Clague proposed Reynolds for the appointment. Colonel March is now reported willing to change his support from Caswell to Reynolds.

Chicago, May 22.—Real beer was on tap today in a score of south side homes.

Men, women and children, carrying everything from tin cans to wash boilers, caught their supply from a manhole which spouted a five-foot column of beer for more than four hours last night.

Police said the beer came from a nearby brewery, the owners of which took alarm from the raid of the Seiben brewery Monday and dumped their stock into the sewer.

RESOLUTION WAS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED AT REPUBLICAN

PLATFORM COMMITTEE WRES-TLES ALL NIGHT WITH PLANKS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—A resolution endorsing Senator James E. Watson for the republican nomination for vice president was unanimously adopted early today by the platform committee of the Indiana republican convention. The boom for Watson as running mate of President Coolidge was started when six of the thirteen district caucuses approved Watson's prospective candidacy.

In an all-night session the platform committee wrestled with resolutions to build up a compromise platform that would be given approval of all factions in the convention today.

The platform does not mention the Ku Klux Klan, but declares that the laws must be enforced upon the "high and low alike" without prejudice as to race, creed or color.

Watson declared in his keynote address that the question of membership in secret organizations is not within the province of a political organization, a stand acceptable by the Klan.

A fight over delegates at large to the national convention was avoided when it was decided to select 10 delegates at large instead of 7 and give each delegate seven-tenths of a vote. By this change Postmaster General New is assured of a place on the delegation.

Three hundred delegates are said to be members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Springfield, Mass., May 22.—Dr. George A. Miller, head of the Panama mission field, was elected a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church on the fourth ballot taken at the general convention here today.

Miller is one of five bishops to be appointed to take the places of resignations tendered at the convention.

SUPPLEMENTED BY PICTURES OF

ALL THE WORLD CAN "READ"

Within a short period the Brainerd Dispatch will inaugurate a photo-gravure section featuring first of all, home scenes of rare merit and beauty, supplemented by pictures of national interest covering current events.

This service will be semi-monthly, on Saturdays, and the issues will be of such interest as to really make souvenirs appreciated by any one in Brainerd or any one interested in this section of the 10,000 Lakes.

This step in adding a picture section to the Dispatch, shows the paper is getting in line with the larger city publications. Advertisers will be given the advantage of increased circulation so secured. The whole movement will benefit the entire community as it will give pictorial publicity to this section. All the world can "read" a picture, and no section of a metropolitan newspaper, these days, is more eagerly scanned and preserved than the photo-gravure section.

Where this service has been installed in other cities, residents have either preserved all the copies intact or have formed scrap books to keep the views, for in after years the pictures will be even more cherished and appreciated than now.

REPORT

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 22.—Joseph E. Reynolds, editor of the Mankato Free Press, is reported to be the choice of President Coolidge for appointment as collector of customs in St. Paul to succeed Harry Lund.

It was reported about a week ago that the place would go to Irving A. Caswell, republican national committeeman from Minnesota and former state supreme court clerk. He was recommended by Colonel C. H. March, manager of the Coolidge campaign in Minnesota. Opposition developed to Caswell on the part of Frank Clague, congressman from Redwood Falls, and Oscar E. Keller, St. Paul. Representative Clague proposed Reynolds for the appointment. Colonel March is now reported willing to change his support from Caswell to Reynolds.

Rum Treaty Between

(By United Press)
Washington, May 22.—The rum treaty between the United States and Great Britain became effective today with exchange of ratifications at the state department.

At almost the same time the state department announced conclusion of an identical treaty with Sweden, which was signed today by Secretary Hughes and the Swedish minister here.

The Swedish treaty is the third of a series to be negotiated, one having been signed by Germany Monday, another with Holland is in its preliminary stages.

MERRITT LODGE FISHING TRIP

Minnesota's Ten Thousand Lakes
Fishing Club Had Outing Sunday, May 18th

PIKE STEAK DINNER SERVED

James F. Gould, Game and Fish Commissioner, Chairman After Dinner Talks
(Contributed)

The second annual fish of Minnesota's Ten Thousand Lakes Fishing club was held at Merritt Lodge, about 15 miles east of Walker and on the south end of Leech lake, on Sunday last, May 18th.

Plans had been laid for a large crowd, and numerous people of state-wide interest in outdoor sports, fishing and hunting were expected.
The steamer Magewat was chartered for the day. An Indian pow-wow was provided and the boats of Merritt Lodge arranged for. A sumptuous breakfast was served to all early arrivals in the park on the lake shore.

Contrary to all hopes, the day dawned cold and windy, and while weather conditions did not prevent the gathering or dampen the feeling of good fellowship among those present, it served to keep many people away and to make fishing second rate sport.

At one o'clock the dinner was served, consisting of fried pike steaks and all the trimmings, cooked to a turn by Chef Young of the Lodge, on a "range" burning fourteen foot wood in the open.

After dinner came a short program of speeches, James F. Gould, game and fish commissioner, acting as chairman. In token of welcome to the members of the fishing club, Mr. Merritt presented a huge key to the Lodge. In the absence of Club President R. R. Wise of Brainerd, president of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association, who was absent on a trip to the southern part of the United States and Mexico, this was received by proxy, R. R. Gould, first reading a telegram from Mr.
Wise, dated Kansas City, Mo., in which he expressed his disappointment at being necessarily absent, followed by appropriate remarks, expressing appreciation of the welcome, and speaking briefly of the Land of the Ten Thousand Lakes and the several organizations striving to build up a knowledge and enjoyment of what it has to offer.

Other speakers were Charles W.
Henke, assistant game and fish commissioner; D. A. Peterson, chief game warden; Donald Hough, of the Ten Thousand Lakes association; Ed
Rogers, county attorney of Cass county, and W. C. Mannis, chairman of executive committee of the club, who made the arrangements for the meetings, and others.

B. L. Brown of the Northwestern
Photographic Studios of St. Paul, was there with his moving picture machine.

Mr. Thompson of the Minneapolis
Journal and a representative of the St. Paul Pioneer Press were present, besides numerous others, from Brainerd,
Walker and intermediate points.

A large crowd of Indians availed themselves of the opportunity to meet their white brothers, and staged a very interesting native performance in the afternoon.

In spite of a little flurry of snow, all present had a good time, and voted the meeting a success, in spite of the inclement weather.

Husband Qualified as Movie Cave Man, Woman Says, Asks Decree

St. Paul, May 22.—All the charges
Albert Singer, 44, made against her are nothing to what she can charge to him, according to the answer Elizabeth Singer, 46, filed today to his divorce complaint.

They were married in St. Paul,
March 24, 1916. According to her side of the story, her husband was a worthy candidate for a movie cave-man role.

In August, 1920, she said, he beat her up, dragged her into the yard and threw her over the fence, quitting only when a neighbor woman came to the rescue with a baseball bat; that Thanksgiving he drove her and her two children by an earlier marriage out of the house, and that Christmas he beat her and the oldest daughter, 16.

In March of this year, she said, he beat her and threw her out of the home of his brother, Tony Singer;

she went to her own home at 1469 Holston st., and he and Tony and a third man came there and repeated the beating.

She asks a divorce and restoration of her former name, Biedermann, according to the papers filed by Bundlie & Kelly, her attorneys.

THAT DANISH BUTTER

It was Danish butter invading the markets of America that brought real competition for our home article and hammered down the local price. In this regard it is interesting to read the government's crop and market reports. A recent one has a statement headed, "Large Increase in Danish Butter Exports." It states in part that Danish butter exports during the first three months of the current year show an increase of 22 per cent over those for the corresponding period of 1923, according to a report received from Consul General Letcher at Copenhagen, shipments having amounted to 65,400,000 pounds as compared with 53,581,000 pounds last year. These shipments represented 79.2 per cent of the total production which has been estimated at 82,604,000 pounds. Denmark usually exports from 75 to 80 per cent of her total production.

The British market provided an outlet for 70.7 per cent, or 46,133,000 pounds, of the Danish exports during this first quarter of the year. Germany was also an important purchaser. Although figures of total exports to that market are not given, it is known that Denmark shipped considerable quantities into Germany in order to relieve the depressed condition of the British market. Exports to Germany during March alone amounted to 4,660,000 pounds.

Some shipments were also made to the United States, this country having been favored with 4,642,000 pounds during the first three months of the year. (The word "favored" is used by the government report.) Practically all of that butter was consigned to the New York market. Total imports of Danish butter into the United States during 1923 amounted to nearly 9,000,000 pounds. While Danish exports to the New York market constitute a very small item compared with the total annual receipts for distribution at that market they frequently have a psychological effect on domestic prices, particularly when production and marketing are closely balanced.

Export prices in Denmark during the first three months of the year averaged 35.5 cents per pound. The lowest figure was 32 cents and the highest 39 cents per pound. Prices reached their lowest level during the last two weeks of March when as a result of heavy arrivals of Colonial butter on the British market, prices in that country began to slump. This situation had not improved up to the week ending April 12 when the range of prices for Danish butter in the United Kingdom ran from 32 cents to 37 cents per pound as compared with a range of from 40 cents to 42 cents during the week of March, 1924.

FOREIGN SERVICE IS IMPROVED

A CONSTRUCTIVE piece of legislation to be credited the republican congress is that of the Rogers bill for the reorganization of the foreign service. President Harding had previously declared: "Our diplomacy as expressed in our foreign policies has a vital effect upon our foreign trade. The consular service built by republican genius is excellent, but the lack of an organization to collect and digest information about current political affairs in other countries has become notorious."

President Harding strongly indorsed the Rogers bill, but it failed of passage in 1923 because of the legislative congestion in the senate. President Coolidge has also endorsed the measure, and Secretary Hughes has been strong in its advocacy. As has been often stated, our foreign service in a pacific as well as in a commercial sense, is our first line of defense.

The Rogers bill passed the senate without a dissenting vote, and it passed the house some time ago. Hereafter, our representatives abroad will be known as "foreign service officers" and their positions below the grade of minister will be permanent. They will be subject to promotion on merit, and they may be assigned to duty in either the diplomatic or consular branch of the foreign service at the discretion of the president. The distinction between a diplomatic and a consular officer has been abolished insofar as foreign service is concerned, although a man may serve for a period as one and for another period as the other. In short, the functions are interchangeable.

Ambassadors and ministers are not disturbed, since it was decided that the president should have the right to appoint his own chiefs of mission.

The Rogers bill makes the American foreign service second to none, and it offers a fine career for those who like intellectual work, pleasant surroundings, a fair amount of social prestige, and an opportunity to function without fear or favor.

AMERICA'S SWEET TOOTH

AMERICA has a sweet tooth of such proportions, that adding the billion pounds consumed a year will make a monument the size of Bunker Hill's. As Col. C. D. Johnson graphically illustrates the dairy industry by building it all into one cow which sticks her nose in the Panama canal and flicks the icicles off the North Pole, so the candy consumption of the nation, in a year's period, amounts to an awe inspiring mass. The figures must be authentic, for they were revealed at the annual convention of the National Confectioners' association meeting held in Chicago.

Many persons have found candy a substitute for alcohol. Walter C. Hughes, secretary-treasurer of the confectioners association, declared. In the old days some men took "three fingers," now they take a pocketful or a handful.

A KENTUCKY HORSE WINS

BLACK GOLD, a western horse, sprung from the soil of Kentucky, won the great Derby down south. It was also a victory of the west against the east, for three western horses followed Black Gold and showed their heels to the fleetest of the east.

Black Gold is owned by a woman and she accepted her success philosophically. Before the race she stated that horse racing like prospecting oil was a hazardous game.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE gives two rules for boys—work hard and behave—that might do a lot of grown folks a sight of good if they'd try 'em, says the Macon Telegraph.

It states in part that Danish butter exports during the first three months of the current year show an increase of 22 per cent over those for the corresponding period of 1923, according to a report received from Consul General Letcher at Copenhagen, shipments having amounted to 65,400,000 pounds as compared with 53,581,000 pounds last year. These shipments represented 79.2 per cent of the total production which has been estimated at 82,604,000 pounds. Denmark usually exports from 75 to 80 per cent of her total production.

The British market provided an outlet for 70.7 per cent, or 46,133,000 pounds, of the Danish exports during this first quarter of the year. Germany was also an important purchaser. Although figures of total exports to that market are not given, it is known that Denmark shipped considerable quantities into Germany in order to relieve the depressed condition of the British market. Exports to Germany during March alone amounted to 4,660,000 pounds.

Some shipments were also made to the United States, this country having been favored with 4,642,000 pounds during the first three months of the year. (The word "favored" is used by the government report.) Practically all of that butter was consigned to the New York market. Total imports of Danish butter into the United States during 1923 amounted to nearly 9,000,000 pounds. While Danish exports to the New York market constitute a very small item compared with the total annual receipts for distribution at that market they frequently have a psychological effect on domestic prices, particularly when production and marketing are closely balanced.

Export prices in Denmark during the first three months of the year averaged 35.5 cents per pound. The lowest figure was 32 cents and the highest 39 cents per pound. Prices reached their lowest level during the last two weeks of March when as a result of heavy arrivals of Colonial butter on the British market, prices in that country began to slump. This situation had not improved up to the week ending April 12 when the range of prices for Danish butter in the United Kingdom ran from 32 cents to 37 cents per pound as compared with a range of from 40 cents to 42 cents during the week of March, 1924.

FOREIGN SERVICE IS IMPROVED

A CONSTRUCTIVE piece of legislation to be credited the republican congress is that of the Rogers bill for the reorganization of the foreign service. President Harding had previously declared: "Our diplomacy as expressed in our foreign policies has a vital effect upon our foreign trade. The consular service built by republican genius is excellent, but the lack of an organization to collect and digest information about current political affairs in other countries has become notorious."

President Harding strongly indorsed the Rogers bill, but it failed of passage in 1923 because of the legislative congestion in the senate. President Coolidge has also endorsed the measure, and Secretary Hughes has been strong in its advocacy. As has been often stated, our foreign service in a pacific as well as in a commercial sense, is our first line of defense.

The Rogers bill passed the senate without a dissenting vote, and it passed the house some time ago. Hereafter, our representatives abroad will be known as "foreign service officers" and their positions below the grade of minister will be permanent. They will be subject to promotion on merit, and they may be assigned to duty in either the diplomatic or consular branch of the foreign service at the discretion of the president. The distinction between a diplomatic and a consular officer has been abolished insofar as foreign service is concerned, although a man may serve for a period as one and for another period as the other. In short, the functions are interchangeable.

Ambassadors and ministers are not disturbed, since it was decided that the president should have the right to appoint his own chiefs of mission.

The Rogers bill makes the American foreign service second to none, and it offers a fine career for those who like intellectual work, pleasant surroundings, a fair amount of social prestige, and an opportunity to function without fear or favor.

AMERICA'S SWEET TOOTH

AMERICA has a sweet tooth of such proportions, that adding the billion pounds consumed a year will make a monument the size of Bunker Hill's. As Col. C. D. Johnson graphically illustrates the dairy industry by building it all into one cow which sticks her nose in the Panama canal and flicks the icicles off the North Pole, so the candy consumption of the nation, in a year's period, amounts to an awe inspiring mass. The figures must be authentic, for they were revealed at the annual convention of the National Confectioners' association meeting held in Chicago.

Many persons have found candy a substitute for alcohol. Walter C. Hughes, secretary-treasurer of the confectioners association, declared. In the old days some men took "three fingers," now they take a pocketful or a handful.

A KENTUCKY HORSE WINS

BLACK GOLD, a western horse, sprung from the soil of Kentucky, won the great Derby down south. It was also a victory of the west against the east, for three western horses followed Black Gold and showed their heels to the fleetest of the east.

Black Gold is owned by a woman and she accepted her success philosophically. Before the race she stated that horse racing like prospecting oil was a hazardous game.

DOPE PEDDLER WORKS HARD TO REDUCE SENTENCE

St. Paul, May 22.—Sitting in his cell at Leavenworth federal penitentiary James Daugherty, convicted Minneapolis narcotic peddler, perfected an appeal from his sentence which was heard in St. Paul.

Working and studying law in the penitentiary library steadily throughout the winter he unearthed legal history dating as far back as 1777, which he cited in his case to show that his sentence of 15 years on three counts of sale of narcotics was in error.

He carefully typed 15 pages of argument presenting his case in perfect legal order.

Having no money with which to hire an attorney, he submitted his brief to United States circuit court of appeals in a fight to have his sentence cut from 15 to 5 years.

Daugherty pleaded guilty, he averred, to three counts of sale of narcotics after, as he says, it had been agreed that he would be given a light sentence. This was before Judge Page Morris a year ago. The maximum five-year sentence on each of the three counts was imposed in the fall by Judge W. F. McGee.

Daugherty declared that five years was the legal maximum because the motive in each case constituted but one continuous crime.

"In 1777 a baker sold four loaves of bread on Sunday," the brief read. "He was arrested for four violations and Lord Mansfield ruled this but one single criminal act." Then, the brief lists more than 50 other cases where a similar ruling was made taking the examples from United States court records.

Lafayette French, Jr., United States attorney, in his reply pointed out that the law read that the sale of narcotics and not the business of peddling narcotics was the crime and that therefore the 15-year sentence was in accordance with the law.

The case was taken under advisement by the court.

New Park Gets "The Hunchback of Notre Dame"

Following lengthy negotiations between Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation and Manager Geo. D. Irwin of the New Park Theatre, contracts were signed yesterday for the early presentation here of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." Booking of this wonderful picture is one of the most important announcements in local theatrical circles in many weeks.

The fame of the Victor Hugo classic in its celluloid form has been so generally known that it is hardly necessary to dwell upon its greatness. During the first five months following its premier at the Astor Theatre in New York City it was shown only in the largest legitimate theatres of the United States. It establishes a record at the Astor by running for more than six months to capacity house.

Lon Chaney heads the notable cast of 3991 players which includes such brilliant artists as Patsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Terrence, Brandon Hurst, Tully Marshall, Nigel de Bruiler and Winifred Bryson. The majority of the seventy-five principals are as well known on the stage as they are on the screen. The production in its film form has been endorsed by the Jergy of all denominations.

IDENTITY OF SERVICE MAN IS IN DOUBT

(By United Press)

Niobrara, Neb., May 22.—Physicians representing the United States Veterans Bureau today examined the remains of an unknown veteran buried as Arthur Frazer in an effort to solve the puzzle created by the return of the real Arthur Frazer, an Indian.

Until the identity of the remains is cleared up the real Frazer will remain on the Veterans Bureau lists as "killed in action."

The body buried as that of Frazer was brought from the trenches in France in 1918. It was interred here, and the local American Legion post was named the Arthur Frazer post. Some time ago a young man arrived at the Lower Brule Indian reservation near here and said he was Arthur Frazer, now living there with his parents. The young man is suffering from shell shock.

Expected to Be Scalped

A German woman, newly arrived from the old country, believing she had arrived in the land of wild Indians, of whom she had heard much while living in her old home, refused to leave a train when it arrived in Leavenworth, Kansas. It was necessary forcibly to remove her and not until she saw her sister and had been assured of her safety would she believe she was in a civilized community.

Sam responded: "No, boss, I've just workin' faster."—Forbes Magazine.

Osage Indians Tallest of Tribes of North America

Missouri, unlike many other states, never had a large number of Indians. Indian tribes, or warlike chiefs of ability. The Osage Indians were the only tribe peculiar to and historically native in Missouri. The "Missouris," who took their name from the river, were living there when Marquette and Joliet made their famous trip in 1673, but they had originally gone there from the vicinity of Green Bay, Wis. They were never a strong tribe, writes Raymond W. Thorp in "Adventure."

Other Indian tribes in Missouri came late, as the Sauks, Foxes and Delawares. These originated east of the Mississippi and settled in Missouri during the Spanish period.

The Osages were the distinctive Indians of Missouri, and well might the state be proud of them. The great artist, Catlin, states that the Osages were "the tallest race of men in North America, either of red or white skins." Few Osage braves were under six feet in height, many were six feet six inches, and some were seven feet tall. They were well proportioned and good looking, and in movement they were quick and graceful. In war and the chase they equaled any. Although living close to the white man for decades they late retained their primitive customs and dress.

DOPE PEDDLER WORKS HARD TO REDUCE SENTENCE

St. Paul, May 22.—Sitting in his cell at Leavenworth federal penitentiary James Daugherty, convicted Minneapolis narcotic peddler, perfected an appeal from his sentence which was heard in St. Paul.

Working and studying law in the penitentiary library steadily throughout the winter he unearthed legal history dating as far back as 1777, which he cited in his case to show that his sentence of 15 years on three counts of sale of narcotics was in error.

He carefully typed 15 pages of argument presenting his case in perfect legal order.

Having no money with which to hire an attorney, he submitted his brief to United States circuit court of appeals in a fight to have his sentence cut from 15 to 5 years.

Daugherty pleaded guilty, he averred, to three counts of sale of narcotics after, as he says, it had been agreed that he would be given a light sentence. This was before Judge Page Morris a year ago. The maximum five-year sentence on each of the three counts was imposed in the fall by Judge W. F. McGee.

Daugherty declared that five years was the legal maximum because the motive in each case constituted but one continuous crime.

"In 1777 a baker sold four loaves of bread on Sunday," the brief read. "He was arrested for four violations and Lord Mansfield ruled this but one single criminal act." Then, the brief lists more than 50 other cases where a similar ruling was made taking the examples from United States court records.

Lafayette French, Jr., United States attorney, in his reply pointed out that the law read that the sale of narcotics and not the business of peddling narcotics was the crime and that therefore the 15-year sentence was in accordance with the law.

The case was taken under advisement by the court.

New Park Gets "The Hunchback of Notre Dame"

Following lengthy negotiations between Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation and Manager Geo. D. Irwin of the New Park Theatre, contracts were signed yesterday for the early presentation here of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." Booking of this wonderful picture is one of the most important announcements in local theatrical circles in many weeks.

The fame of the Victor Hugo classic in its celluloid form has been so generally known that it is hardly necessary to dwell upon its greatness. During the first five months following its premier at the Astor Theatre in New York City it was shown only in the largest legitimate theatres of the United States. It establishes a record at the Astor by running for more than six months to capacity house.

Lon Chaney heads the notable cast of 3091 players which includes such brilliant artists as Patsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Terrence, Brandon Hurst, Tully Marshall, Nigel de Brulier and Winifred Bryson. The majority of the seventy-five principals are as well known on the stage as they are on the screen. The production in its film form has been endorsed by the clergy of all denominations.

GEORGE D. LA BAR AGAIN HEADS BOARD

Well Known Banker Is Re-elected President of Brainerd Board of Education

E. L. DAHL VICE-PRESIDENT

L. F. Hohman Re-elected Secretary.
M. E. Morrison Treasurer—
Bank Depositories Designated

The Brainerd Board of Education held a special meeting on Monday night, called for the purpose of organizing the board for the coming year, and for such other business as might be brought up.

L. F. Hohman was selected temporary chairman and F. M. Hagberg temporary secretary of the meeting. The first order of business was the election of officers for the coming year. The chair appointed E. L. Dahl and M. E. Morrison as tellers.

A motion carried to take an informal ballot for the selection of president, resulting in eight votes for G. D. LaBar and one for E. M. Hagberg. On the formal ballot the result was the same, and Mr. LaBar was declared duly elected president for the ensuing year.

A motion carried to take an informal ballot for vice president which resulted in two votes for Mrs. J. A. Thabes, one for K. S. Bredenberg, and five for E. L. Dahl. On the formal ballot the results were eight for Dahl, one for Bredenberg, and Dahl was declared duly elected vice president.

An informal ballot was taken for secretary, in which L. F. Hohman received six votes, Hagberg two, and Morrison one. On the formal ballot, Hohman received seven, Morrison and Hagberg each one, and Hohman was declared duly elected secretary.

Morrison received eight votes and Bredenberg one on the informal ballot for treasurer. On the formal ballot, Morrison had seven, Bredenberg one, and there was one blank. Morrison was declared duly elected treasurer.

The bond of the treasurer was placed at $20,000, premium to be paid by the board. The salary of the secretary was left the same as heretofore, and the treasurer's salary was increased five dollars per month on account of the additional will be asked to express their preferences Bureau trainees. This additional salary is chargeable to the Veterans Bureau.

The finance committee submitted a resolution, designating the depositories for school funds as follows: First National bank, 60 per cent; Citizens State bank, 25 per cent; Commercial State bank, 15 per cent.

The above is subject to regulation. The disbursements of school funds in open checking account shall be handled as at present, in open checking account through the First National bank, except that school funds in open checking accounts on deposit in other designated depository banks be transferred to the First National bank as occasion requires.

On roll call the members present voted in favor of the resolution except Mrs. Thabes, who asked to be excused from voting because of not being familiar with the proposition, and the resolution was declared adopted.

The board spent over two hours in discussion of the new high school. City Attorney D. H. Fullerton was present to pass on any legal matters that might arise. The conclusion reached was that the board will select two or more possible sites for a new high school building and these proposed sites will be placed upon the primary ballot at the June election, at which time the taxpayers will be asked to express their preference of locations for the guidance of the board.

It is felt that the crowded condition of the city schools and with the certainty of even greater congestion next year, immediate action toward a new high school building that will adequately care for the enrollment for some time to come, is necessary.

The board adjourned at midnight. All members were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Grondin, 618 South Fourth street, on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. A report of the district convention will be given at this meeting.

Only One Result

The Chiropractor most assuredly locates the CAUSE of disease and eliminates it. Without cause there can be no effect. There can be only one result of such elimination. Health will follow just as naturally as water will flow when the thing that holds it back is removed. The majority of so-called disease is caused by subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine). In every such instance these vertebrae have to be placed in adjustment to allow the proper flow of the vital force. This is the first duty of the Chiropractor. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.

Ole Hanson Accused of Horse Theft Says the Nag Was His Own

Pasadena, Calif., May 22. — Ole Hanson, former fiery mayor of Seattle, must appear in justice court today to answer to a charge of horse stealing.

Hanson, now a realtor, claims he only took his own horse.

The animal, a parade nag named Golden, was brought to southern California by the Hansons when they came here, the former I. W. W. battler said. One night the horse disappeared.

That was a year and a half ago. The other day while riding along the boulevard Hanson and his son spotted Golden in a corral, they said, and explaining that the animal belonged to them, the owner turned the horse over without question.

Anyway a warrant followed, the horse's latest owner declaring the Hansons had not proved ownership. The case should be settled today.

Bank Depositories Designated

The Brainerd Board of Education held a special meeting on Monday night, called for the purpose of organizing the board for the coming year, and for such other business as might be brought up.

L. F. Hohman was selected temporary chairman and F. M. Hagberg temporary secretary of the meeting. The first order of business was the election of officers for the coming year. The chair appointed E. L. Dahl and M. E. Morrison as tellers. A motion carried to take an informal ballot for the selection of president, resulting in eight votes for G. D. LaBar and one for F. M. Hagberg. On the formal ballot the result was the same, and Mr. LaBar was declared duly elected president for the ensuing year.

A motion carried to take an informal ballot for vice president which resulted in two votes for Mrs. J. A. Thabes, one for K. S. Bredenberg, and five for E. L. Dahl. On the formal ballot the results were eight for Dahl, one for Bredenberg, and Dahl was declared duly elected vice president.

An informal ballot was taken for secretary, in which L. F. Hohman received six votes, Hagberg two, and Morrison one. On the formal ballot, Hohman received seven, Morrison and Hagberg each one, and Hohman was declared duly elected secretary. Morrison received eight votes and Bredenberg one on the informal ballot for treasurer. On the formal ballot, Morrison had seven, Bredenberg one, and there was one blank. Morrison was declared duly elected treasurer.

The bond of the treasurer was placed at $20,000, premium to be paid by the board. The salary of the secretary was left the same as heretofore, and the treasurer's salary was increased five dollars per month on account of the additional will be asked to express their preferences Bureau trainees. This additional salary is chargeable to the Veterans Bureau.

The finance committee submitted a resolution, designating the depositories for school funds as follows: First National bank, 60 per cent; Citizens State bank, 25 per cent; Commercial State bank, 15 per cent.

The above is subject to regulation. The disbursements of school funds in open checking account shall be handled as at present, in open checking account through the First National bank, except that school funds in open checking accounts on deposit in other designated depository banks be transferred to the First National bank as occasion requires.

On roll call the members present voted in favor of the resolution except Mrs. Thabes, who asked to be excused from voting because of not being familiar with the proposition, and the resolution was declared adopted.

The board spent over two hours in discussion of the new high school. City Attorney D. H. Fullerton was present to pass on any legal matters that might arise. The conclusion reached was that the board will select two or more possible sites for a new high school building and these proposed sites will be placed upon the primary ballot at the June election, at which time the taxpayers will be asked to express their preference of locations for the guidance of the board.

It is felt that the crowded condition of the city schools and with the certainty of even greater congestion next year, immediate action toward a new high school building that will adequately care for the enrollment for some time to come, is necessary.

The board adjourned at midnight. All members were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Grondin, 618 South Fourth street, on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. A report of the district convention will be given at this meeting.

Jury Found Therein for Plaintiff—Soules vs Wicklund Now On Trial

In district court Wednesday afternoon the case of Wm. G. Stratemeyer against the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie was called for trial. The jurors drawn for this case were P. W. Evans, Andrew Lagerquist, K. J. Nesheim, Mrs. F. A. Knights, John Lewis, Mrs. W. C. Rasch, Henry Stine, Sr., Nels Hegstad, Erwin Jackson, Charles Long, Ole Lystad and G. W. Northrup.

On motion of the plaintiff, the action was dismissed after one witness for the plaintiff had testified.

The jury in the case of R. M. Adams against Ed Watts returned a verdict finding for the plaintiff, and assessing his damages in the sum of $53.90. Andrew Anderson was foreman of this jury. The case concerned a store account it was alleged Watts owed to Adams. The defendant claimed a counter bill to offset this account.

On Thursday the case of James Soules against Roy Wicklund was on trial. Soules alleges that the defendant burned over land and destroyed hay owned by the plaintiff. Wicklund claims that notice to remove this hay had been given to Soules. Hilding Swanson is attorney for Soules and Walter F. Wieland is attorney for Wicklund.

The jurors in the case are Andrew Lagerquist, Ole Lystad, E. G. Warner, J. A. McColl, George W. Northrup, Nels Hegstad, Ned Bowman, Earl Moore, K. J. Nesheim, G. F. Mitchell, Erwin Jackson and John Lewis.

The next case to be called is that of the state against T. E. Jones, an appeal from the municipal court of Brainerd.

Ole Hanson Accused of Horse Theft Says the Nag Was His Own

Pasadena, Calif., May 22. — Ole Hanson, former fiery mayor of Seattle, must appear in justice court today to answer to a charge of horse stealing.

Hanson, now a realtor, claims he only took his own horse.

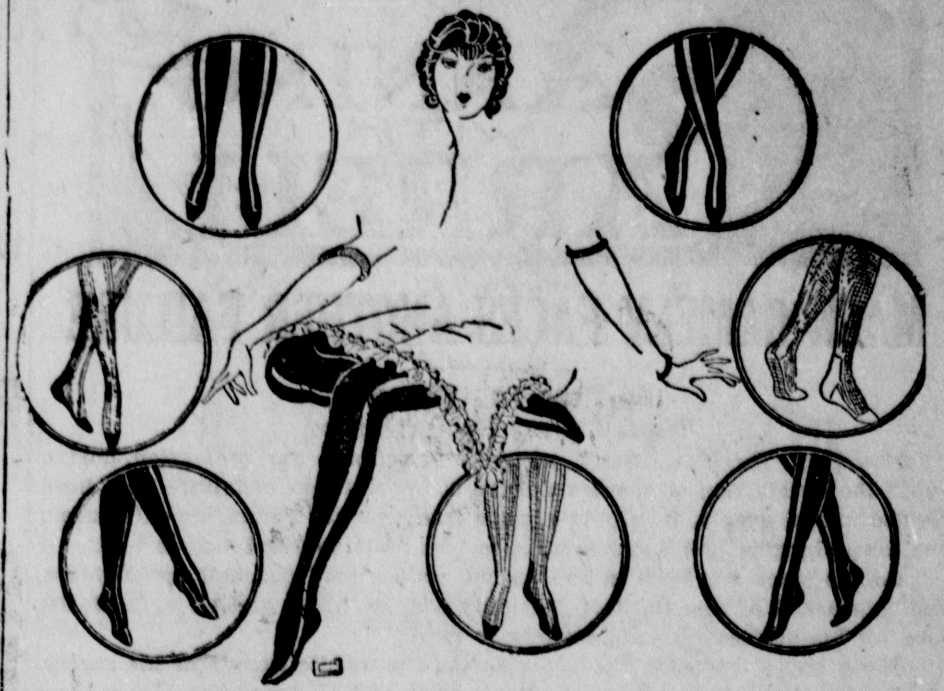

The animal, a parade nag named Golden, was brought to southern California by the Hansons when they came here, the former I. W. W. battler said. One night the horse disappeared.

That was a year and a half ago. The other day while riding along the boulevard Hanson and his son spotted Golden in a corral, they said, and explaining that the animal belonged to them, the owner turned the horse over without question.

Anyway a warrant followed, the horse's latest owner declaring the Hansons had not proved ownership. The case should be settled today.

Only One Result

The Chiropractor most assuredly locates the CAUSE of disease and eliminates it. Without cause there can be no effect. There can be only one result of such elimination. Health will follow just as naturally as water will flow when the thing that holds it back is removed. The majority of so-called disease is caused by subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine). In every such instance these vertebrae have to be placed in adjustment to allow the proper flow of the vital force. This is the first duty of the Chiropractor. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.

MACK GAMELY FACES ANOTHER FAILURE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, May 22.—After a career of 30 years in any profession, during which the satisfaction of success and the disappointment of failure have been divided almost evenly, it is only a game man who can retain his enthusiasm and keep plugging along and fighting for the ninth inning break in luck.

Connie Mack has been in and around professional baseball for 30 years, and fate asked of him the test that only a game heart and an enthusiastic love for his profession could attempt to meet.

Mack was a tremendous success during the middle decade of his career. He developed the Philadelphia Athletics of 10 and 15 years ago into a team that will go down on the books second only to that great old Baltimore Oriole organization.

Mack's claim for fame and great repute was represented not so much in the conquests of the team, but in the sagacity and keen judgment that he had shown in finding and developing the great stars who formed the machine on the field.

Before he had reached that point in years where his career might have been regarded as being over the hill, Mack was a recognized success, a manager pointed out as a genius and a fashion setter of a game where success follows the imitation of success in a large degree.

Right in the height of his glory, luck broke for Mack. He was plunged from the heights to the depths of baseball. Instead of being the toast of baseball, he became the roast of the game. The revered name of the Philadelphia Athletics became the punching bag for the wise cracks of humorists. They became the Pathetics instead of the Athletics, and the best thing that Mack's friends could say of him was that he deserved a chance to make good.

It might not have been pride, exactly, that rode Mack to his fall, but there was an exaggerated feeling of confidence, at least, behind him when, in 1914, he tore apart the great Athletic machine and declared that he would build another just as good.

He used all his building skill for 9 years, and he was unable to get his club out of the American League "cellar" or off the steps leading to the "cellar." He hunted through the same territory where he had found the stars of his old nine, but he discovered no more Collinses, Bakers, Barrys, Benders or Planks.

SEEK REFEREE IN GIBBONS CARP BOUT

DECISION WILL PROBABLY BE MADE EARLY NEXT WEEK

CARPENTIER EASES OFF FROM HIS STRENUOUS TRAINING

(By United Press)
Michigan City, Ind., May 22.—Search was started today for a referee for the Gibbons-Carpentier bout scheduled May 31.

While promoters indicated that they would like to secure an Indiana man as the third man in the ring, others names have been mentioned prominently. Among these are Matt Hinkel, Cleveland; George Barton, Minneapolis; Harry Kelly, Buffalo, and Ed Dickerson, Grand Rapids. Decision will probably not be made until early next week.

Carpentier, smiling and confident, is already off from strenuous training for several days. He will box in public on Sunday and then will continue training in private.

Gibbons is already slowing down in his work. The St. Paul scrapper will renew his slugging matches on Monday, and then continue hard training until he feels fit, it was said at his camp today.

Better Roosters Needed in Many Poultry Flocks

We have heard much of better beef sires and better dairy sires. A good rooster is just as important to the poultry flock. To prevent inbreeding it is necessary to get new blood at least every two years. Buy a sure cockerel and buy a good one. Be sure he comes from healthy stock which has been bred for egg production. Be sure he has vigor, a wide back, deep abdomen, long body, full breast and proper development. Don't buy a cull or mongrel at any price. Then mate him up to a dozen of your very best hens; late moulters with lots of room in the rear and soft, flexible bodies. The result should be better pullets.—O. G. Krum, Poultry Specialist, Colorado Agricultural College.

Fan Out Poultry House

It is a good plan to visit the hen houses after the chickens are gone to roost, and see what the air smells like. Perhaps it will need to be "fanned out" as they used to fan a change of air into the house in the bygone days when windows were nailed down for the winter. Then the fresh-air devotees would open an outside door and vigorously fan it back and forth until the stale air was fanned out. Overcrowding, lice, mites and bad air are the pests of chickens.

BLUE AND WHITE NOW TIED WITH ST. CLOUD FOR FIRST PLACE

(By L. P.)

Brainerd, in a fast contest Wednesday afternoon, won out 5 to 2 over its St. Cloud high school rivals. Zakariasen was again going like a house on fire in a town with no chemical and pitched a three hit game. He was supported by airtight defense. About as much opportunity dribbled through that defense as moisture through a mulchide roof.

Working like a Walter Johnson, for "Zak" whips a speedy one across the plate, fourteen men vainly fanned the air in the seven innings play. Their bats could not connect with "Zak's" smoke.

The Blue and White are now firmly anchored within hailing distance of first place in the percentage column, being tied with that Granite City bunch for premier honors.

Brainerd plays Little Falls here Friday at the Koering grounds at 4:15 P. M. This will be the last game of the year, so let's all go.

Here's the score by innings for yesterday's setto:

POULTRY

INCUBATING TURKEY EGGS IS HARD TASK

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are certain factors in the incubation of turkey eggs which are very important, and which mean a great deal in determining the number of fully matured pullets and cockerels raised in the following year. In a large measure the criterion of success in turkey raising is the number of fully matured turkeys raised in proportion to the total number of eggs set. Therefore the eggs as laid must be given the very best attention. High fertility is desirable, and incubation should be carried out in such a way that as many of the eggs as possible will hatch. Naturally, the vigor of the breeding stock and the manner in which it has been managed will determine in large degree the quality of the hatching eggs.

The eggs should be collected regularly every day and kept in a room at a temperature of from 50 degrees to 60 degrees F. They should be turned every day, but should be handled carefully and should not be kept for over two weeks.

The period of incubation of turkey eggs is 28 days, and the method of incubation is much the same as with chicken eggs. Turkey eggs can be incubated under chicken hens, turkey hens, or in incubators. If chicken hens are used to incubate turkey eggs, care must be taken not to give the hen too many eggs, as from 9 to 12 are quite sufficient, depending upon the size of the hen as well as the size of the eggs. Nesting arrangements as well as other matters are practically the same as in incubating chicken eggs. The sitting hen should be fed daily and given a chance to exercise.

When the turkey hen is allowed to sit on her own eggs, conditions are much the same as with the chicken hen. Turkey hens will cover from 15 to 20 eggs. Nests are most conveniently arranged on the ground or in boxes or barrels and should be covered so that the turkey hen will not be disturbed. At the same time she should be taken off daily and allowed to exercise and should be given plenty of water to drink, and clean, wholesome feed, such as a mixture of wheat and oats.

When the turkey hen becomes broody she should be allowed to sit on the nest for two or three days before being entrusted with the eggs. When she has remained on the nest for two or three days she should then be given her eggs laid and attended to as suggested. If a number of hens are sitting at the same time, care should be taken to see that they get back to the nests properly and that no nest is left uncovered.

Both chicken and turkey hens, while sitting on turkey eggs, should be dusted with sodium fluorid, using a small pinch under each wing, around the thigh joint, over the back, under the body and around the vent. In this way the hen is rid of lice and the poult at hatching time are not liable to be infested with the parasites.

Use of Moldy Straw for Litter Quite Injurious

Serious loss of poultry is often due to the use of moldy straw for scratching litter. In such cases, according to D. C. Kennard, specialist in poultry at the Ohio experiment station, the birds affected breathe with difficulty and often wheeze or gasp for air.

The symptoms are similar to a cold in the windpipe or bronchitis. The respiratory system of a chicken is so complicated that an excessive amount of dust of any kind is injurious and especially is this true of the dust from moldy straw.

Recent reports of heavy losses of pullets from this cause have been made. A heavy loss of birds may result in a few hours, it seems, and one bale of moldy or musty straw used for scratching litter may mean a serious loss of birds.

Need Courage

In any organization for betterment two or three men have to have most of the moral courage.

MACK GAMELY FACES ANOTHER FAILURE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, May 22.—After a career of 30 years in any profession, during which the satisfaction of success and the disappointment of failure have been divided almost evenly, it is only a game man who can retain his enthusiasm and keep plugging along and fighting for the ninth inning break in luck.

Connie Mack has been in and around professional baseball for 30 years, and fate asked of him the test that only a game heart and an enthusiastic love for his profession could attempt to meet.

Mack was a tremendous success during the middle decade of his career. He developed the Philadelphia Athletics of 10 and 15 years ago into a team that will go down on the books second only to that great old Baltimore Oriole organization.

Mack's claim for fame and great repute was represented not so much in the conquests of the team, but in the sagacity and keen judgment that he had shown in finding and developing the great stars who formed the machine on the field.

Before he had reached that point in years where his career might have been regarded as being over the hill, Mack was a recognized success, a manager pointed out as a genius and a fashion setter of a game where success follows the imitation of success in a large degree.

Right in the height of his glory, luck broke for Mack. He was plunged from the heights to the depths of baseball. Instead of being the toast of baseball, he became the roast of the game. The revered name of the Philadelphia Athletics became the punching bag for the wise cracks of humorists. They became the Pathetics instead of the Athletics, and the best thing that Mack's friends could say of him was that he deserved a chance to make good.

It might not have been pride, exactly, that rode Mack to his fall, but there was an exaggerated feeling of confidence, at least, behind him when, in 1914, he tore apart the great Athletic machine and declared that he would build another just as good.

He used all his building skill for 9 years, and he was unable to get his club out of the American League "cellar" or off the steps leading to the "cellar." He hunted through the same territory where he had found the stars of his old line, but he discovered no more Collinses, Bakers, Barrys, Benders or Planks.

SEEK REFEREE

IN GIBBONS-

CARP BOUT

CARPENTIER EASES OFF FROM HIS STRENUOUS TRAINING

(By United Press.)
Michigan City, Ind., May 22.—Search was started today for a referee for the Gibbons-Carpentier bout scheduled May 31.

While promoters indicated that they would like to secure an Indiana man as the third man in the ring, others names have been mentioned prominently. Among these are Matt Hinkel, Cleveland; George Barton, Minneapolis; Harry Kelly, Buffalo, and Ed Dickerson, Grand Rapids. Decision will probably not be made until early next week.

Carpentier, smiling and confident, is already off from strenuous training for several days. He will box in public on Sunday and then will continue training in private.

Gibbons is already slowing down in his work. The St. Paul scrapper will renew his slugging matches on Monday, and then continue hard training until he feels fit, it was said at his camp today.

Better Roosters Needed in Many Poultry Flocks

We have heard much of better beef sires and better dairy sires. A good rooster is just as important to the poultry flock. To prevent inbreeding it is necessary to get new blood at least every two years. Buy a new cockerel and buy a good one. Be sure he comes from healthy stock which has been bred for egg production. Be sure he has vigor, a wide back, deep abdomen, long body, full breast and proper development. Don't buy a cull or mongrel at any price. Then mate him up to a dozen of your very best hens; late moulters with lots of room in the rear and soft, flexible bodies. The result should be better pullets.—O. G. Krum, Poultry Specialist, Colorado Agricultural College.

Fan Out Poultry House

It is a good plan to visit the hen houses after the chickens are gone to roost, and see what the air smells like. Perhaps it will need to be "fanned out" as they used to fan a change of air into the house in the bygone days when windows were nailed down for the winter. Then the fresh-air devotees would open an outside door and vigorously fan it back and forth until the stale air was fanned out. Overcrowding, lice, mites and bad air are the pests of chickens.

BRAINERD FIVE, ST CLOUD TWO, IN H. S. GAME

FAST CONTEST STAGED HERE ON WEDNESDAY AFTER-NOON

BLUE AND WHITE NOW TIED WITH ST. CLOUD FOR FIRST PLACE

(By L. P.)

Brainerd, in a fast contest Wednesday afternoon, won out 5 to 2 over its St. Cloud high school rivals. Zakariasen was again going like a house on fire in a town with no chemical and pitched a three hit game. He was supported by airtight defense. About as much opportunity dribbled through that defense as moisture through a mulehide roof.

Working like a Walter Johnson, for "Zak" whips a speedy one across the plate, fourteen men vainly fanned the air in the seven innings play. Their bats could not connect with "Zak's" smoke.

The Blue and White are now firmly anchored within hailing distance of first place in the percentage column, being tied with that Granite City bunch for premier honors.

Brainerd plays Little Falls here Friday at the Koering grounds at 4:15 P. M. This will be the last game of the year, so let's all go.

Wise Judge

"I hear you were Judge at a baby show," said Huffy's friend Cuthbert.

"I was," admitted Huffy.

"If I have heard you say one, I have heard you say fifty times that all the babies look alike to you," said Cuthbert.

"They do."

"Then how could you tell the prettiest baby?"

Huffy answered: "I judged by the mothers."—Minneapolis Tribune.

Madam, What Size?

Select twelve men whose wives are present. Ask them to remove their collars, ties and collar buttons. Place all the haberdashery thus collected on the speaker's table. Then, at a given signal, have the twelve wives try to pick their respective husband's belongings.—The Kablegram.

Covered Up

Unlike most other pecks, in a peck of trouble the largest ones are not always at the top.

POULTRY

INCUBATING-TURKEY EGGS IS HARD TASK

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are certain factors in the incubation of turkey eggs which are very important, and which mean a great deal in determining the number of fully matured pullets and cockerels raised in the following year. In a large measure the criterion of success in turkey raising is the number of fully matured turkeys raised in proportion to the total number of eggs set. Therefore the eggs as laid must be given the very best attention. High fertility is desirable, and incubation should be carried out in such a way that as many of the eggs as possible will hatch. Naturally, the vigor of the breeding stock and the manner in which it has been managed will determine in large degree the quality of the hatching eggs.

The eggs should be collected regularly every day and kept in a room at a temperature of from 50 degrees to 60 degrees F. They should be turned every day, but should be handled carefully and should not be kept for over two weeks.

The period of incubation of turkey eggs is 28 days, and the method of incubation is much the same as with chicken eggs. Turkey eggs can be incubated under chicken hens, turkey hens, or in incubators. If chicken eggs are used to incubate turkey eggs, care must be taken not to give the hen too many eggs, as from 9 to 12 are quite sufficient, depending upon the size of the hen as well as the size of the eggs. Nesting arrangements as well as other matters are practically the same as in incubating chicken eggs. The sitting hen should be fed daily and given a chance to exercise.

When the turkey hen is allowed to sit on her own eggs, conditions are much the same as with the chicken hen. Turkey hens will cover from 15 to 20 eggs. Nests are most conveniently arranged on the ground or in boxes or barrels and should be covered so that the turkey hen will not be disturbed. At the same time she should be taken off daily and allowed to exercise and should be given plenty of water to drink, and clean, wholesome feed, such as a mixture of wheat and oats.

When the turkey hen becomes broody she should be allowed to sit on the nest for two or three days before being entrusted with the eggs. When she has remained on the nest for two or three days she should then be given her eggs and attended to as suggested. If a number of hens are sitting at the same time, care should be taken to see that they get back to the nests properly and that no nest is left uncovered.

Both chicken and turkey hens, while sitting on turkey eggs, should be dusted with sodium fluorid, using a small pinch under each wing, around the thigh joint, over the back, under the body and around the vent. In this way the hen is rid of lice and the poult at hatching time are not liable to be infested with the parasites.

Use of Moldy Straw for Litter Quite Injurious

Serious loss of poultry is often due to the use of moldy straw for scratching litter. In such cases, according to D. C. Kennard, specialist in poultry at the Ohio experiment station, the birds affected breathe with difficulty and often wheeze or gasp for air.

The symptoms are similar to a cold in the windpipe or bronchitis. The respiratory system of a chicken is so complicated that an excessive amount of dust of any kind is injurious and especially is this true of the dust from moldy straw.

Recent reports of heavy losses of pullets from this cause have been made. A heavy loss of birds may result in a few hours, it seems, and one bale of moldy or musty straw used for scratching litter may mean a serious loss of birds.

Need Courage

In any organization for betterment two or three men have to have most of the moral courage.

Only Few Elk Left

Twenty-five thousand elk of the Yellowstone Park region constitute the only large game herds left in the United States.
